

Capture Trucks Missing Girl And Steamboat in Alleged Rum Plot

Sixty-two Men Are Arrested in Surprise Attack by Staten Island Police—Steamboat Is Captured After Running on a Sand Bar.

New York, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Atlantic, a single stater steamboat said by police to contain a half million dollars of contraband liquor was anchored under guard off the Statue of Liberty today after it had fled from the surprise attack of fifty Staten Island police, had cut a sand bar in two in the Kill Von Kull and had run upon a sand bar where it was captured by the coast guard.

Thirty-four men were arrested by the Staten Island police, who also captured seven seven-ton trucks and three expensive automobiles. In addition the coast guard made prisoners of 26 men aboard the Atlantic.

The steamboat taken to the Statue of Liberty by the coast guard today was the second alleged rum runner to be captured in New York harbor within 24 hours. The British steamer Sebastopol was taken yesterday with a load of liquor estimated by the coast guard to be worth $360,000 at bootleg prices, and the crew of 17 men was held for hearing later. The Sebastopol was also technically classified as a pirate ship because it was said to have changed its name at sea to the Westmoreland.

Patrolman F. Dauria of the St. George precinct was on patrol when he saw the single stater tied up at an abandoned dock of the distinct Downer Shipbuilding Company at Arlington. Investigating, he saw what he estimated to be 100 men gathered around a fleet of waiting trucks and apparently preparing to unload the steamer's cargo.

Police Surprise Men. Dauria telephoned for reinforcements and then took charge of surrounding the alleged rum runners. The armed patrolmen revealed their presence so suddenly that the men on the dock were taken by surprise.

There was a mad scramble in the darkness as whistles blew and the police called upon the throng to surrender and it was believed in the excitement that many were able to escape. Thirty-four men, however, including those police believe to be the ring leaders, were arrested.

While the police were busy taking their prisoners, the crew of the steamer, which had not yet begun to unload, cut the boat loose from the dock and started at full speed through the waters of the Kill Von Kull. In his haste to escape the helmsman ran his boat into two anchored sand barges, cutting one of them clean in two and causing two men on board the barge to be injured as they fell into the water.

The wounded rum runner careened onward through the darkness until it ran its prow high and dry onto a sand bar. After rescuing the two men thrown into the water, police notified the coast guard and a cutter was sent which pulled the steamer from the sand bar and took it and its crew to anchorage close to the Statue of Liberty where it was kept under close guard beside the Sebastopol.

Never Secured 3 Hurt in Crash A Legal Divorce, Purnell Admits

King of the House of David Admits He Never Secured a Legal Divorce From His First Wife—Denies Mistreatment of Members of Colony.

St. Joseph, Mich., Aug. 12 (AP).—"King" Benjamin Purnell, of the stand as a witness for himself in the state's dissolution suit against the House of David, today admitted on cross examination by Assistant Attorney General Nichols that he had never secured a legal divorce from his first wife.

"Eighteen or nineteen attorneys told me I didn't need one. I was only an ignorant boy then," he said. It has been the contention of the state that Purnell was a bigamist. His wife, "Queen" Mary, had previously insisted that Purnell had secured a divorce and that she was legally married to Purnell.

The admission came after direct examination by Purnell's own counsel in which Benjamin categorically denied charge after charge that has been laid against him by state witnesses.

Brought In On Stretcher. Purnell was brought into court on a stretcher and permitted to testify from the cot. The courtroom was crowded and back of Benjamin were scores of his followers. A colony nurse hovered attentively around the cult leader's stretcher.

Purnell said he was born March 27, 1861. He was somewhat vague concerning his early life, but said that he and Mary Purnell, who testified yesterday, had been members of a colony headed by Michael Mills in Detroit some twenty years ago.

"I don't think I did," was his answer to a question as to whether he had written two pamphlets introduced by the state and claimed to instruct colony members to perjure themselves if necessary.

He denied mistreatment of girl or women members of the colony and also denied ever having offered "hush money" to Ruth Swanson, a state witness, to persuade her not to testify about mistreatments alleged by the state.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS OPPOSE MORRIS STAND ON O'BRIEN

The statement of State Republican Chairman Charles F. Morris that he favored endorsing Judge John F. O'Brien for the court of appeals at the Republican state convention in September apparently did not meet with favor in all Republican circles. Among those who are looked upon as willing to oppose the stand of the state chairman is Philip Elting of this city. Collector of the Port of New York and chairman of the Ulster county Republican committee.

The New York Herald Tribune in commenting on the situation this morning says: "Republican leaders do not take kindly to the nomination of Judge O'Brien. Joseph H. DeBraga, Queens organization leader, recorded his protest yesterday. It is understood that he has the support of Jacob A. Livingston, of Kings; William L. Ward, of Westchester; Philip Elting of Kingston, Collector of the Port of New York, and one or two others."

Sacco-Vanzetti More Cheerful in Their New Cells

Which Are Remote From The Death House, Where They Waited Until 15 Minutes Before The Scheduled Execution—Fall Bench of Supreme Court to Meet Tuesday.

Boston, Aug. 12 (AP).—The gloom of the death house had lifted its pall from Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti today and although one twelfth of their stay from execution was already expired the men were distinctly more cheerful as their counsel hurled the last legal barrier to presentation of their latest contentions to the state supreme court.

Together with Celestino Madeiros, who because of his identification with the case was respited with the other two, they occupied freshly prepared cells in a part of the prison remote from the death house where they waited until 15 minutes before the scheduled execution in ignorance that a stay had been granted them.

In the meantime the full bench of the supreme court, or as much of it as was available, had been summoned to meet next Tuesday to hear arguments by defense counsel on the last two lines of legal recourse left open to them in the state courts.

Judges Allow Appeals. The way to both of these was paved yesterday when Judge Webster Thayer, superior court judge who presided at the original trial, and Justice George A. Sanderson of the supreme court, consented to allow appeals from previous adverse rulings.

In Judge Thayer's case, the jurist signed the defense bill of exceptions to his rulings of lack of jurisdiction on motions for a new trial, as well as to denials of a stay of execution, revocation of sentence based largely on affidavits alleging prejudice on his own part during the celebrated trial.

Judge Thayer's refusal to withdraw from the case in favor of another judge was also made a point for determination by the supreme court. Previously Justice Sanderson had granted the defense petition for exceptions to his refusal of a writ of error in favor of the condemned men and has thus removed the last stumbling block to the defense battle for that step.

Heretofore the supreme court has passed solely on points of law but should the full bench decide to allow the writ of error it would go back to a single justice for a hearing on the merits.

Honolulu Flight Again Postponed

Next Tuesday Agreed Upon When Will Permit All Signers to Pass Federal Tests Before Starting.

Honolulu, Aug. 12 (AP).—The start of the January 1938 trans-Pacific flight from here to Hawaii today was postponed until next Tuesday because of an agreement among some of the aviators to wait until the day of muddled planning, during which the original starting date was conditionally postponed two weeks, then decided on again, and finally Leon Glynn was ready to jump to set back until next Tuesday when the day and the "Bluebird" and "Columbia" pilots took a name in the matter. The starting time originally had been set for tomorrow morning.

Parisians Disappointed.

Paris, Aug. 12 (AP).—Rumor brought a small gallery of flight "first nighters" to Le Bourget flying field in the early hours of this morning in the hope of seeing a take-off for New York. But they had their vigil for nothing. Neither pilot, navigator nor passenger appeared, and toward dawn most of the watchers reluctantly left.

The night was fair enough, with a clear starlit sky and faint wind. But the latest weather reports indicated that conditions over the Atlantic had tended to become worse rather than improved.

Fresh trouble between Charles A. Levine, owner of the transatlantic plane, Columbia, and Maurice Drouhin, engaged to pilot the craft back to New York, has caused considerable stir in the air world.

Drouhin, making an inspection of the Columbia yesterday afternoon, found that the contact points had been removed. He did not conceal his displeasure when the owner said he had removed them. Levine is reported to have referred to rumors that a scheme was afoot to take the plane for a flight without his knowledge or presence.

"This is too preposterous a hoax to justify such a procedure," Drouhin said. "I am surprised that anyone interested in the ship should touch her after all had agreed she was ready for the take off."

Building Fronts Affect Lighting

Light Colored Materials Which Can Be Kept Clean by Washing Found to Afford Best Surfaces for General Illumination.

Schenectady, Aug. 12.—That 75 per cent of the lighting costs on many of America's "Intensive White Ways" is made necessary because of the type of facing materials used on the buildings along the streets is indicated in the first results of a survey made by the General Electric Company with the cooperation of the National Terra Cotta Society. The work was under the supervision of W. D. Arey Ryan, director of the company's illuminating engineering laboratory.

There are more than 50 streets in America which are classified as intensive white ways, the standard being an illumination of 300 lumens or more per linear foot of street.

Light-colored materials which can be kept clean by washing, such as terra cotta, were declared to afford the best surfaces for purposes of general illumination. Aside from laboratory tests conducted by the General Electric engineers, streets were cited where buildings of this type stand out in bright display beside their darker, sordid neighbors. Terra cotta with certain texture surfaces was declared preferable to the usual surface finishes for illumination which is usually accomplished by light thrown from below. The new surface finishes, unlike ordinary surface treatments, do not deflect all the light upward but return it to the eye of the beholder.

"We see by reflected light," explain the engineers. "If an object does not reflect light we do not see it, although we may get an impression of its form or outline if it is silhouetted against a bright background."

"The amount of light reflected by an object in the direction of the eye is not a measure of its visibility, however. In other words, photometers do not measure visibility. Glare should be avoided wherever possible."

Bagpipe Band Is His Memorial

Johnston Memorial Pipe Band of Rochester Never Accepts Remuneration but Renders Its Services Free as Memorial to Its Founder.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP).—The life and career of the late Thomas Slater Johnston of Rochester is memorialized, not in marble but in stained glass, but in the shrill music of the Scottish bagpipes which he loved as a boy in his native Orkney Islands. The Johnston Memorial Pipe Band, organized by his son, John White Johnston of this city, is a memorial as characteristic as it is unusual.

The Johnston Memorial Pipe Band is financed by Mr. Johnston, and has never accepted any remuneration. Its services are at the call of all philanthropic, civic and religious activities. Each year finds the band in a series of concerts at various eleemosynary institutions. It appears annually at the Monroe County Tuberculosis Hospital, at the Hillside Home for Children, at St. Anne's Home, at the Friendly Home, and at the Jewish Orphan asylum. For weeks the inmates look forward to this annual concert, and the appearance of the band, always in full Scottish regalia, is reason enough to declare a holiday. Mr. Johnston keeps the personnel of the band at about 40 musicians and dancers. There are five young ladies who execute the national dances of Scotland, and 35 men, all artists on the bagpipes and drums. The band is always a guest organization; it cannot be engaged, and maintains its reputation as the finest amateur organization in Monroe county. An interesting fact regarding the band came to light in a recent interview with Mr. Johnston, by a representative of The Associated Press. Every member of the band is either a native of Scotland or of direct Scottish descent, and each musician is required to furnish proof of his Scottish birth or ancestry.

Thomas Slater Johnston came to this country from the Orkney Islands in 1868, settled in Rochester, and was one of the founders of the Sibley Lidsay and Carr company, operators of a large department store. His death occurred here in 1915.

"Warfield's advice decided me on Luckies"

At the Fairfield Country Club Hugh Beaumont explains to Miss Ethel Burnside how he came to prefer Lucky Strikes.

The Noted Actor,
David Warfield,
writes:

"Among other things, when young actors come to me for advice, I always say, 'Take care of your voice, cultivate it—and watch your smoking.' Usually they eye the cigarette in my hand with some suspicion. And then, I offer them a Lucky Strike—a cigarette I smoke freely, and have yet to feel the slightest effect on my throat. I've been told that toasting does that for this cigarette. When I smoke 'Luckies' my throat is beautifully clear and un irritated."

David Warfield

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Women Aides to Sherlock Holmes

See 500,000 Cards Concerning the Underworld's "Who's Who" Are Classified by Women Employees of New York State.

ALBANY, Aug. 12 (AP).—Women are proving able assistants to the Sherlock Holmes of New York state. The Bureau of Criminal Identification of the New York State Department of Correction is "manned" by women, and a woman is chief of the bureau. Miss Clara L. Parsons, head of the bureau since 1914, was at one time a clerk in the same department.

Under the supervision, women's hands keep classified more than 500,000 cards that tell all there is to know about the "Who's Who" of the underworld, and here women's eyes look through microscopes at the prints fingers make on clean paper.

Miss Parsons does not know why the bureau relies entirely on women to do its work, but she does know they are as capable as men. She points some phases of criminal investigation are best left to men.

Proud of the efficient way in which her office assists police departments in checking up on criminals who are arrested in the Empire State, Miss Parsons says:

"Quite often criminals with records in other states try to cover up their delinquencies and evade severe punishments waiting for them as second, third and fourth offenders. But our check-up usually reveals their history."

Miss Parsons favors universal finger printing. This practice, she believes, would make it easy to identify anybody anywhere. The possibility of mistaken identity, she explains, is only one in 64 trillions.

KINGSTON, N. Y., AUG. 12, 1927.

Like many of the sailors who go down to the sea in ships, Clarence D. Chamberlin, who flew across the Atlantic, does not know how to swim. One would think swimming ought to be a part of the preliminary training of both sailors and flyers.

The number of persons killed in automobile accidents in this country in eight years is given as 112,017. Between April, 1917, and November, 1915, only about 50,000 of our soldiers were killed in the World War, and they were in a good deal of fighting, too.

Somewhat supposed to know estimates that American tourists will spend $650,000,000 abroad this year, more than a third of it in France. Such an amount in a few years ought to help a lot toward the payment of war debts—provided the European governments get a fair share of the scattered dollars.

According to Vice-President Barnhart of the National Surety Company of New York, an explanation of a large part of the increase in crime is due to the fact that girls now expect a man to spend $50 to $100 for an evening's entertainment. Still, there may be some girls left not likely to scorn their evening escort as a tightwad even if he spends only half that amount.

The human element is the greatest single factor in fire and accident prevention. Safety engineering has gone far in recent years in the direction of mechanical safeguarding, but no matter how great the factor of safety may be, mechanically considered, it can be neutralized if the machine or property is not properly handled. No one can do this for the worker, and his own self-interest should prompt him to develop a safety consciousness.

A street railway is one of the chief allies of a modern growing city. It is an efficient partner of business and a dependable servant of the individual. It takes people to and from their work in stores, offices and industrial plants. It brings customers to merchants, students to school and patrons to theatres and public gatherings. It develops the city and increases property values. It contributes to the revenue of the city through payment of taxes and upkeep of pavement; it buys its supplies at home and distributes its payroll among local people. It is unexcelled for mass transportation at low cost, and is economical of street space. It is one of the safest modes of travel. All in all, it is a busy, reliable public utility dedicated to the good of its city and contributing to the progress of the community which it is privileged to serve.

AMERICAN WAY BEST.

The representative of the National Farmers' Union of England, visiting the fertile fields of Oregon, says that good farming and poor living go together; that high standards of intensive cultivation are impossible without labor, content with a low standard of living.

The American idea is to substitute power for human labor, wherever possible; to put steam and gas and electric power into the fields in lieu of overworked men and women and children, and so make humanity free.

The basic facts are alike in England, America, everywhere—that cheaper, stronger, more tractable labor is essential. But here we vision it in machines, like the marvelous tractor and in a reasonable tariff to protect American production, not in low-browed, bedraggled, despairing serfs toiling for an overlord who is a "good farmer."

THE GREATEST EARTHQUAKE.

The world was promptly informed of the seismic convulsions in California, Martinique, Sicily, Japan and the other more important earthquakes of modern times. We even have more or less accurate historical knowledge of such disturbances in past centuries, including the terrible earthquake at Lisbon in 1755, when a great multitude crowded for refuge on a supposedly secure marble quay went down under the crashing sea and not one body was ever recovered. But the news of the earthquake in China on the 26 of last May, so far as known the most terrible that ever occurred, shored out to slowly from the devastated region that a month elapsed before even Peking got rumors of it, and another month passed before it was known in Europe and America that no less than 100,000 persons lost their lives and that at least three cities had been utterly destroyed, one of them being buried beneath a "moving mountain."

The observances of Western civilization show when and approximately where a violent earthquake had occurred, but the disordered conditions in China, completely deranging means of communication, caused anything like a detailed account of the disaster to travel out at something like a snail's pace. This suggests the reasonable probability that in ancient times, with little intercommunication between nations and far-scattered peoples, there were mightier convulsions of nature than any now on record, these disasters of the remote past remaining practically unknown beyond the environment of the sufferers immediately concerned. The veil so long hanging over this great Chinese earthquake may serve as a reminder that, after all, our world is not so "small" as we have become accustomed to regard it in recent times.

THE FAST HEART.

One of the causes for the rejection of recruits for the army, was very rapid beating of the heart.

Although 72 to 76 beats is considered normal, allowances was made for excitement and nervousness, and if the heart was over 90 beats, the candidate was allowed to sit down for a few minutes until he "quieted down."

Now some individuals have hearts that always beat rapidly, and they seem to get along all right. However even in these cases regular daily exercise will often slow down the heart by 10 beats in a few months time.

Formerly we frequently heard about hearts being worked so hard that they became greatly dilated, and these were called dilated hearts. Since the advent of the X-ray and fluoroscope, and these supposed dilated hearts may be seen, it is found that they are very rare indeed.

Why? Because Nature looks after us by increasing the power and rapidity of the heart beat, so that the heart is enabled to do the work without having to enlarge itself or become dilated.

And what about these hearts that beat more rapidly than normal even when no exercise is being taken? Here again Nature does her work in the same efficient manner. Drs. H. J. Stewart and J. H. Crawford of New York city, have been investigating this matter of the naturally rapid heart. They found that when the heart was beating very fast, but with a regular rhythm, there was an actual decrease in the size of the heart, whereas where the heart was fast but irregular, due to the different parts of a certain chamber of the heart not working all together, they found that the size of the heart remained the same, or was increased.

This means then that folks with hearts that beat rapidly, but regularly, are being taken care of by Nature decreasing the size of the heart. Football players, boxers, and most athletes get a heart slow and strong by "road work," which means slow running on the road. Jogging one to two hundred steps slowly in front of your open window morning and evening, should give you the slow, strong, regular heart.

TWENTY AND TEN YEARS AGO.

Aug. 12, 1907.—Woodstock post office in Beekman's store burglarized and robbed of $500 in stamps and cash.

Announced that new Central post office building would be completed by May or June of next year. Roundout merchants who thought they had received internal machines, by mail discovered contents of packages were disused dry battery and an Elks' pin.

Mrs. Oliver Holden died at Shan-daken.

Aug. 12, 1917.—Miss Frances Kenyon and A. D. Startup married. Death of Mrs. Abbie J. Scott at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George B. Main, on St. James street.

Mrs. John Murphy died at her home on East Union street.

Whatever became of the old-fashioned belle who pinned newspapers in her skirt to counterfeits that expensive taffeta rustle?

The next war may be fought with carbon monoxide gas. It is surely proving itself to be deadly enough in time of peace.

"Here's a very nobby derby," remarked the expensive haberdasher to the undecided customer, "worn by all our best cornets."

Horseanship is expected of a prince. The prince of Wales appears inclined to set a pace so athletic as to defy competition.

WHY
Excitement Has Bad Effect on Digestion

Good nature and good health go hand in hand, according to Dr. Hugh A. Cummings, surgeon general of the United States public health service. "It has long been recognized that nervous excitements are accompanied by special facial expressions," he said. "It is known that certain kinds of feeling, especially the happy kind, help the proper functioning of the organs while others have an unfavorable action."

"Studies have shown that the conditions favorable to proper digestion are upset when we experience vexation, worry and anxiety, or when emotions such as anger and fear are allowed to prevail."

"By strong excitement, particularly of the unpleasant kind, the secretions of the glands of the mouth, stomach and intestines and the flow of the bile may be checked for some time. In such conditions the food lying heavy in the stomach is an irritant rather than a benefit."

"The moral is that if we have experienced an outburst of passion or strong excitement it is well not to take nourishment until we are calmed down and are willing to look at things good naturedly or with a courageous poise."

"This applies to man, woman and child and if the rule were followed there would be fewer nervous disorders."

Doctor Cummings pointed out that digesting, assimilating and rearranging the ingredients of our diet, the body works with a precise and admirable harmony in which all the organs and cells interplay.

"A good nature, especially at meal time and just preceding it, or better than a good nature, a cheerful, courageous poise, gives digestion and assimilation a boost and allows the inner harmony of the system to go on pleasantly and efficiently."

"Starting the day or the meal with a cross, fretful or angry feeling tends to check indigestion in the ordinary individual and to throw a greater stress on the inner harmony that is necessary for our customary vocations."

Why Trees Kill Grass

Explained by Research

It is a matter of common observation that grass does not grow so well close to trees as in the open. The same is true of grains. Experiments in this country and in England have shown that the deleterious effects upon one another of grass and trees are mutual. The trees suffer as well as the grass and grain. This is especially true of fruit trees. The cause is ascribed to the excretion by the trees, on the one hand, of substances poisonous to the grass, and by the grass, on the other hand, of substances poisonous to the trees. It thus appears that the failure of grass to grow well near trees should not be ascribed to too much shade, nor to the exhaustion by the tree roots of the food needed by the grass.

Why No Cover for Ice

As the object of ice in an icebox is to cool the air, it is not desirable to cover it, since that would prevent the object sought. It is important that the icebox be well insulated and that the ice in the refrigerator should not be insulated by the use of a blanket or paper. An exception to this rule of the uselessness of an ice blanket occurs when conditions are such that the refrigerator can be iced only at intervals of several days. Under such circumstances somewhat more uniform conditions can be obtained by partly covering the ice with a blanket or with paper during the first day when the supply is extra large and removing the blanket when the ice is partly melted.

Why Prejudice Is Silly

Prejudice is one of the most startling things that a man can carry around with him in his soul. The scornful person who hates strange people and keeps strictly to his own set cherishes the illusion that he is shutting out the world from fellowship with his valuable self. What he is really doing is to shut himself out from fellowship with the valuable world. He is not, first of all, making the world poor; he is making himself poor.—Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Why Bow Inside Hat

The origin of the bow inside a man's hat is described in an answered question in Liberty. Formerly, it is explained, hats were made in only a few sizes. To adapt them to varying sizes of heads, a string was woven around the inside of the hat, which could be drawn up or loosened to suit. The bow has been retained because it serves to distinguish quickly between the back of the hat and the front.

Why Soda Water "Fizzes"

Soda water is an aerated water containing a small quantity of bicarbonate of soda solution. The aeration is caused by charging the water with carbonic acid gas, which is very soluble in water under pressure. The release of the pressure is followed by the escape of the gas.

Why Owl Travels Softly

The owl's feathers are specially constructed. The edges of the feathers are very soft, which allows the air to pass over without making the owl that it does when birds have stiff flight feathers.

War Department Plans New Units

Washington, Aug. 12 (AP).—To have six infantry and three cavalry divisions available for combat duty at comparatively short notice, the War Department is laying plans for a reorganization of divisions.

Leaving practically unchanged present assignments to the first, second and third infantry divisions and the first cavalry division, the department has announced that it intends to reach its objective by reassigning units not included in these divisions, to the newly established fourth, fifth and sixth infantry and second and third cavalry.

The new divisions, the War Department has said, are practically complete in their necessary details. There are, however, certain tentative units for which the department plans to provide a personnel in the near future.

COST OF ELIMINATING GRADE CROSSING TOO HIGH

The public service commission closed the proceedings instituted by it relative to Rice Clark's road grade crossing on the Ulster & Delaware railroad on the state highway leading from Oneonta to Stamford, Grand Gorge and Kingston.

A twenty-four traffic count in August, 1935, showed 1,515 vehicles and thirteen train movements. The approach grades are about seven percent and the railroad alignment is on a five degree curve. Visibility at the crossing is bad and several accidents have occurred at the crossing, although it is protected by bell and automatic flashing signals.

The cost of elimination, estimated at $90,000, is in excess of the statutory limitation. The crossing is regarded as very dangerous by town officials and local property owners but they are unwilling to assume the excess cost and the county of Delaware will not render aid. The commission was required to close the proceedings under the provisions of the grade crossing elimination act.

A. O. H. AUXILIARY HOLDS CELEBRATION

Thirty members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H., Division No. 4, sat down to a chicken dinner at Von Berg's restaurant Thursday evening, the occasion being the fifteenth anniversary of the organization of the society. A fine menu was served to the satisfaction of all present. After the serving of the dinner, the president of the division, Mrs. Katherine T. Sullivan, welcomed those present and gave a brief resume of the history of the organization, telling of the good work that had been accomplished by their membership during the past fifteen years. The county president, Mrs. Sarah Joyce, then briefly congratulated the ladies present on their work and fraternal spirit, and asked for continued cooperation. Singing was enjoyed by all accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Katherine Hogan.

LARGE CROWD ENJOYED WEEKLY BAND CONCERT

The weekly band concert rendered at City Hall Park by the Citizens' Band under the direction of Harry Malsenholder Thursday night was thoroughly enjoyed by many. Probably one of the largest turnouts since the musicians have been playing applauded the program rendered and the supply of benches was not sufficient; many had to stand. The kiddies were present in large numbers and the officers on duty at the park had their hands full keeping the little folks from the area in the close vicinity of the raised city hall where loose bricks sometimes drop from the top of the building. The drinking fountain seems to hold an attraction for the children who keep one policeman on strict vigilance in order that the audience in the area of the fountain may enjoy the concert without being given a shower-bath.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MAHALIA, THE COW

Mahalia, the cow, was sitting on the front lawn in front of the farmhouse. It was not a very big farm but Mahalia loved it. Ever since she had been a calf she had been petted and made much of by the farmer's little daughter whose name was Molly.

Molly had almost saved Mahalia's life by her care and loving devotion to Mahalia when she was very young. It had been Molly who had named Mahalia.

She had named her after a little friend of hers by that name. She had always thought it such a beautiful name and when she saw the little calf with such beautiful eyes and such a soft, kindly, loving face she said at once:

"The only name nice enough for you is Mahalia." The other cows on the farm hadn't such fine names, but then they weren't such fine cows. And none of the others were pets.

How often Mahalia, the cow, had wished she could talk to Molly and tell her how much she thought of her and how much she loved Molly for having taken such care of her.

But all she could do was to moo and to look at Molly out of her big eyes.

Then one day a strange thing happened.

Mahalia had taken a taste, by mistake, of the weed that all cows hate above all others, sneezweed. She had chewed some of the bitter leaves before she had noticed.

She had been day-dreaming and she hadn't even noticed the yellow flowers on the weed which made some people call the weed swamp sunflowers. She felt quite miserable afterward and mixed with the sneezweed had been a bit of cowslip.

Mahalia never knew whether it had been the mixture or whether it was the cowslip that had made the difference or just what it had been, but suddenly she was able to talk.

She thought maybe it was the cowslip that had loosened her tongue but she didn't think much of it for she was so happy that she could have a conversation when Molly next came out to see her. She didn't have to wait long for Molly.

"Molly," said Mahalia as she approached. "Molly, I can talk to you." Molly gave one look of surprise. But her surprise was not nearly so great as her joy.

She went over to Mahalia and put her arm around her and put her head up by Mahalia's and gave her a great kiss. And Mahalia put her funny rough tongue on Molly's cheek and gave her a kiss, too.

Now Mahalia was out on the lawn when it came to her that she was able to talk. None of the other cows ever sat on the front lawn except Mahalia.

She knew how to do it so daintily and it is quite an art for a cow to sit on a front lawn daintily.

Of course because she had always been such a pet she had had permission to do things the other cows could not do.

But greatest of all her joys was that now she could talk to her dear little friend, Molly.

That pleased her above everything else.

And it pleased Molly, too. You may be quite sure of that!

Home Harder to Rule Than Steamer

Woman Who Has Done Much Successfully Gives Her Opinion—Exclaims: "Exciting Steamboating Days on the Mississippi."

New Orleans, La., Aug. 12 (P.)—Piloting a household is much more difficult than directing the progress of a Mississippi river steamer, declares Mrs. Blanche Leathers, who has done both successfully.

Mrs. Leathers is the only regularly licensed woman captain of a Mississippi river steamer.

"The worst I ever heard of on the river in my years of association with men was a little clean cursing," she says. "Women are much worse than men."

Capt. Leathers directed the activities of the steamer Natchez, fourth of that name. It was a direct "descendant" of the Natchez which made the memorable race up the river with the Robert E. Lee.

Jefferson Davis was a passenger on her boat on his last trip to his Mississippi plantation. He gave her a bottle of rare Madeira wine with the parting injunction the wine should be opened in honor of her first child.

River steamboating was in its heyday during the period in which the Natchez moved majestically up and down the stream. Gamblers made regular trips with the cotton planters, who were their greatest prey. Capt. Leathers saw fortunes won and lost aboard the boat. Plantations were mortgaged, she says, to pay debts to the "gentlemen of the green cloth."

The Natchez also had its bar. Here Southern gentlemen sipped mint juleps or drank their whiskey straight. Many dinner parties with dancing to the accompaniment of banjos and guitars took place on the Natchez.

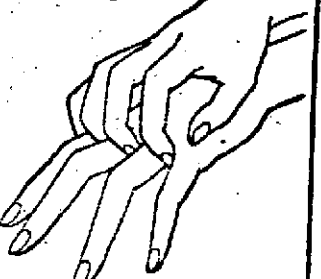

But there was a serious side to the life too. Passengers, sometimes numbering 500, had to be looked after as well as crew and boat. Once she brought the Natchez into New Orleans with 5,500 bales of cotton aboard. Wrecks and near wrecks came into her experience.

With the demand for more speedy transportation and the growing popularity of railroads, business slumped and the Natchez finally went under the auctioneer's hammer. After the death of her husband, son of the captain of the first Natchez, Mrs. Leathers quit the river. She now regards the world quietly from the comfort of her home. But times are not like they once were on the great, rolling Mississippi, she regrets.

City to Electrify Roman Tunnels

Spanish City Will Disclose Hidden Art Objects Dating Back to Roman Times—Tunnels Five Stories Underground.

Toledo, Spain, Aug. 12 (P.)—Poisonous snakes and insects are to be chased out of the underground passages beneath the city and their wealth of Roman, Moorish, Jewish and Christian art objects disclosed to the public by modern electric lights.

The entrance to the tunnels, which date back to Roman times, was found beneath the home of El Greco, the famous seventeenth century painter. The passages are tunnelled five stories underground, and secret corridors go off for miles in several directions, some even coming out into the river below the city.

Built by various holders of the ancient city, they contain valuable relics of the Romans, the Moors, the Jews and the Christians. The home of the painter was once owned by a rich Jew, to whom certain of the tunnels are attributed, and deposits of gold have been discovered in them. There also are splendid vases, Moorish doorways and murals. By next year the city of Toledo will have many of the valuable relics restored and many of the rooms lighted so that they may be easily accessible to tourists.

Many difficulties are being met in connection with the work. The underground rooms and corridors are so infested with scorpions, snakes, and poisonous insects that few workmen were willing to enter them. There were "bottomless" pits to be bridged; and just as the work seemed simplified, new passages were suddenly discovered and they too were to be cleared out.

Some of the tunnels have never been explored and the city has offered every inducement to workers who have constantly refused. It is estimated that some of the tunnels could not be gone through in ten days.

Pacific Coast "New Albion" Francis Drake gave the name "New Albion" to the Pacific coast. The name first appeared on a map published in 1585.

Discuss Reports On Church Unity

Delegates to World Conference Told That Differing Views on Character of One Church Present Obstacles to Accomplishment of Church's Work.

Lausanne, Switzerland, Aug. 12 (P.)—Delegates to the World Conference on Faith and Order, meeting here in an effort to bring about church unity, were engaged in private discussions today on reports of special committees on the nature of the church, the church's common confession of faith. These reports, presented yesterday, had been anxiously awaited by the delegates, who feel that much depends on the proper outline to the Christian world of considered views on these subjects.

As for the message of the church, the substance of the report is that this message "is and must always remain the gospel of Jesus Christ; that the gospel is the joyful message of eternal redemption, which is the gift of God to sinful man in Jesus Christ."

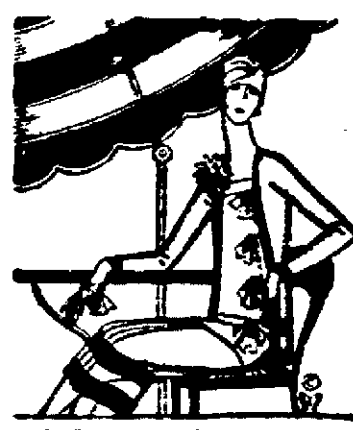

One thousand words is given over to the report on the nature of the church. It begins by saying that "the church of the living God is constituted by his own will, not by the will of the consent of the beliefs of men, whether as individuals or as societies." After treating with the differing views as to "the visible and the invisible character of the one church," it adds:

"But whatever may be our view of these divisions in the past, we are now agreed that they present obstacles to the accomplishment of the church's task, which it is our duty by God's help to remove."

Christians are called upon to become united "if the church is ever to accomplish his will for the salvation of the world."

Both the Nicene and Apostles' Creeds are accepted in the report on the common confession of faith, with the understanding that "competent authority in each church" shall fix their use.

"Solemn and unanimous testimony" is recorded by the committee that no external and written standards can take the place of that inward and personal experience of union with the living Christ, which is the only evidence of spiritual vitality, and that the object of our faith is not any statement about Christ, but Lord Jesus Christ himself.

A loaf of bread and A bag of cement

Any good cook knows that kneading is an important part of bread-making—that thorough mixing of the moist dough makes baking a real success.

Cement-making is much the same. That is why Lone Star Cement is made by the famous International Wet-Blending Process. Perfect blending and "kneading" of the different raw materials is one reason for the super-quality of this cement. Lone Star uniformity is your assurance of success in concrete work. Let us tell you of many improvements that are easy and inexpensive to make with this new-value cement.

'BALLYHOO MAN' ABROAD AGAIN

Plays to Human Weaknesses in Phrases at Carnivals and Circuses.

New York—Famously, famous banners announce his presence. Garish lights shed a glamor about his ges-turing figure. Blaring noises try joyfully to conquer his voice. America mills about his feet, marvels at his fluency, laughs at his wit, is intrigued by his wares and contributes the dimes which make the ballyhoo man's profession profitable.

In circuses, in carnivals, in amusement parks the ballyhoo man flourishes even as does the green bay tree. Advancing the merits of the ten-horned cow, emphasizing the weight of the fat girl, urging the public to see the fire-eating man from Horno, the ballyhoo man treads the rickety boards of his platform and exhorts the public.

The ballyhoo man and his profession seem practically untouched by the hand of time. Electric lights may replace spluttering kerosene torches, but their refulgence shows a scene nowadays that might, except in minor details, have been found anywhere in America 50 years ago.

Looks Like a Gambler.

Perhaps a ballyhoo man's most important stock in trade is his personal appearance. In this he is closely akin to a gambler. He must be of generous proportions—no pocket-sized edition need apply. He should be at least six feet tall and weigh more than 200 pounds. If he is good looking, so much the better; but he must possess a certain presence. This is one profession in which age seems to lend dignity and forcefulness. The dignified, gray-haired ballyhoo man of sixty usually can assemble a larger crowd, hold the people longer and separate them from more dimes than can a younger man.

The flow of eloquence with which the ballyhoo man regales his audience is stereotyped. He is permitted a limited number of unintelligible words, since America likes to think its ballyhoo men well educated. But at the same time he must keep on the level of average intelligence. If he slips in a few "ah's" and "seems" at auspicious moments, he will endear himself to the masses. Then he is considered a great man who can still be "as common as anybody."

The ballyhoo man must know humanity, must know just what to say and when and how. He must fit his "spells" to his crowds. If the artist is ballyhoing for a side show that caters to a masculine trade, he selects his words and phrases carefully, he plays upon the weaknesses of his crowd and makes his hearers feel deliciously wicked and sophisticated by reason of their very presence before such a tent.

If, on the other hand, the ballyhoo man is barking for freak animals, he emphasizes the educational value of the exhibit, urges mothers to bring their progeny to be edified by the five-legged cow and the two-headed sheep.

Short-Change Artists.
The language of the ballyhoo artist is peculiar to his kind and practically unintelligible to outsiders. In its strictest sense, the term ballyhoo is applied to a man who talks, while a "grinder" is one who sells tickets and also bawls. A grinder may also be a short-sugar expert, which means that he can short-change people with facility. Occasionally a grinder has a walk-away, that is, a patron forgets his change and leaves it.

The crowd which gathers to hear a ballyhoo man perform is, in his fan-gion, a tip. "I had a swell tip that ballyhoing, but I only turned a few,"
a ballyhoo man reports to a friend.
He means that he assembled a large crowd but that he succeeded in inducing only a few to enter the show.

The term rule is now passé. Instead, the yokels are known by such expressions as saps, boobies and monkeys. An officer is a John Law, while a prosecuting attorney is a proc, while the people who work about the shows but are not performers are rough-necks.

In every tip a ballyhoo man has a "schell" or two—that is, some one who waxes enthusiastic about the show and pushes to the fore flaunting the price of admission. The sheeplike quality of humanity has been expan-sated for years and the ballyhoo man profits by it. When two or three start into a rant a tip is likely to follow.

Noise eddies and swells about the ballyhoo man. The blare of horns, the thud of drums, the racket of a wind machine are constantly beating against the cadences of his voice. Crying babies, giggling youths and maid-ens, scolding parents contribute to the racket. "Hot dogs," stiffs, onions fry, popcorn pops. The odor of massed humanity assails the nostrils, as the strident notes of the calliope smite the ears.

Millwork Shows Decrease in State

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Specialization Results in Manufacture of Lumber Used for Building Interiors Being Carried On Near Source of Raw Material.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 12 (AP).—The manufacture of lumber used for building interiors has been on the decrease in New York state, according to a recent survey made by Professor Raymond J. Hoyle of the New York State College of Forestry, Syracuse University.

Formerly much of this material was shipped in the rough to the New York state mills, which entailed a freight charge on a large quantity of waste material. Today millwork has reached a high state of specialization and some firms manufacture exclusively a particular molding or piece of trim. Most of such firms are located near the source of the raw material, which usually means outside of the Empire State. This class of manufactured lumber has been turned out in recent years on a large specialized production basis. One firm may make only Douglas fir doors, another firm only oak doors and another firm only frames.

Turning out a product on this plan results in greater efficiency and expertness on the part of the operator and a cheap and special product when compared with the article that used to be produced incidentally to the manufacture of something else. Large production possibilities lead to the perfection of special machinery.

Because of these influences, according to Professor Hoyle, it has been cheaper for many of the New York manufacturers to buy their mill work from southern or western concerns. One of the items in which intensive specialization has been reached is in certain kinds of trim. One product, for example, supplies all the necessary trim for a door or window. It is packed in special packages plainly marked to indicate the size and kind of wood. Short pieces are in short packages and long pieces in long packages which makes for economical and convenient handling.

New York—They've caught the annual "monster" shark at Coney Island, but the sea serpent is weeks behind schedule.

London—Press photographs of the Prince of Wales wearing a hard straw hat have given Piccadilly its greatest shock in years. Hastily scanned records indicated it just had not been done before American good cricketers.

Seattle—Urban real estate will find peace more onerous than war, avows Charles J. Bullock, of Harvard, to national realtors' meeting, if taxes on such property continue to increase as in the last 12 years.

Pittsburgh—August always has been a Jonah month for the Pirates, running true to that tradition. Cuyler, star outfielder, now is on the bench.

New York—Twenty Salvation Army lassies will provide A. E. F. doughnuts for the American Legion convention in Paris, insuring at least that much war time atmosphere.

Atlantic City—Disregarding publicity axioms, boardwalk censors have reported to the mayor that their jobs are sinecures and should be abolished. There's nothing to censor, said one, "when folks all are happy and contented."

Dessau, Germany—Half a dozen mouth organs are included in the gifts received by Johann Tistler, Hungarian ace, who is preparing a transatlantic light. He is adept in the operation of that device.

Family Ticket Now Admits Five for $2 at State Fair

Family ticket books of five admissions at a reduced rate of only two dollars, good any day of the New York State Fair, will be welcome news to those who wish to attend the fair this year and bring the whole family.

The books may be secured from Farm Bureau Agents in practically every county in the State not later than August 25. This is the first time family ticket books have been obtainable, as the regular rate of fifty cents has been the admittance price heretofore.

This low entrance fee, together with special excursion rates to Syracuse on all railroads, will make attendance at the big exposition most attractive all during fair week, August 29 to September 3.

"SPIRIT OF YOUTH" IN AGRICULTURE

Impressive, Colorful Demonstration to Reveal High Spots in Boys and Girls Work.

INITIATING A STATE RALLY

New York State boys and girls engaged in the study of agriculture and home economics and now applying pigments of enthusiasm and determination that may reveal on August 30, at the State Fair, a thrilling mental picture of "The Spirit of Youth in Agriculture," fit to stand as a modern modified companion picture of the war classic, "The Spirit of '76," and the world wide aeronautic classic, Lindbergh and his "Spirit of St. Louis."

If each county in the State sends the quota of 4-H club members allotted to it as the proper representation of an organization with a total membership of 10,000 and directed in each county by a club agent or an agricultural agent, Fair visitors doubtless will be thrilled over the evidence in flesh and club adornment in parade and in mass ceremonies in Empire Court of the valuable contribution of much present and future worth to farms in the Nation's welfare.

Every necessary arrangement in aid to the Rally has been made by the Fair management for the comfort and entertainment of the members. For those who may come from counties so far distant as to make a round trip in one day impossible, if they expect to join the parade at 10:30 A. M., dormitories at Syracuse University are being held for girl members and their chaperones on reservation in advance; and the boys from the distant points will sleep in true camping style in Army tents, properly trencched, on reservation through their county agents. Boys must bring their own blankets, however.

The first State assemblage of 4-H club members, may inaugurate an annual Rally of all young people in agriculture.

All members of the classes in the study of vocational agriculture in every State school and high school and all members of the Young Farmers Club have been invited to view the parade and attend the ceremonies in Empire Court, where Hon. Berne A. Pyke, Commissioner of Agriculture and Markets, and other notables will review the boys and girls and deliver brief addresses.

Castle of Chillon Will Be Restored

Famous Historical Place Immortalized in Byron's Poem—Earliest Authentic Document Relating to It Bears Date 1005 A. D.

Montreux, Switzerland, Aug. 12.—American visitors are legion in contributing to the fund for the repair and restoration of the Castle of Chillon, one of the most famous as well as the most beautiful of Europe's historical monuments.

The castle embodies a struggle of liberty against tyranny. Byron perpetuated it in his poem "The Prisoner of Chillon."

Located on a small rocky islet near the Swiss shore of Lake Lemman, the castle was the scene of revolting cruelties. Among the unfortunate who suffered captivity were the Jews of Villeneuve, who were accused in 1345 of having poisoned the water of the lake and of having thus introduced "the Black Death." Jews, men, women and children, were burned alive in the fortress, as well as some Christians, who were accused of complicity. Towards the end of the 16th and 17th centuries a large number of so-called sorcerers were incarcerated, tortured and finally put to death.

Tombs unearthed near the entrance of the castle are said to show that human beings dwelt at Chillon in the bronze age, between the 18th and 19th centuries B. C. But the oldest authenticated historical document bears the date of 1005 A. D., and indicates that the castle belonged at that time to the Bishop of Sion. Eventually the castle passed into the possession of the House of Savoy, whose Duke, Charles the Third, was the persecutor of Francois Bonivard, whose imprisonment inspired Byron's

Byron visited Chillon in 1816 and left his name in the stone pillar to which Bonivard had so long been chained. Dickens and other notable also have etched their names in the stone of the dungeons and today the castle is visited by thousands of Americans.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

The Princess Line Gains Further Distinction This Season Because of a Rather General Tendency Toward Belts and Buckles Lines.

New York.—Next to a coat, a coat dress is perhaps the most useful garment one may possess. Dresses made on simple lines, to be under than over dressed. One is invariably rewarded for sponsoring simplicity by creating an appearance of youth.

The model in the accompanying sketch could be made of many things. Linen, for one; wool, for another; silk, of course; also cotton. One can easily visualize it in velvet and, although it is innocent of pattern, it is apparent at a glance that a printed material, or even a wool plaid, might be used with excellent effect.

Although waist-lines are nearly always under animated discussion, one finds time between measuring them mentally, so as to determine whether they are going up or down, to note that some very distinguished women have relinquished them altogether and have leaned toward the elegance and stateliness of the princess line. The princess plus the bolero is sanctioned to a marked degree, and appears even more often in early autumn collections than for midsummer.

There is a more or less concerted effort to add something to fullness to the princess line, and a tendency toward making the attempt at one side, instead of both sides. Many of the best-looking early fall dresses tend toward side darts and draperies, while a diagonal arrangement of tucks and bandings continues to be approved.

Getting and Spending

A familiar adage is, "Easy come, easy go." This is peculiarly applicable to money; the easier money comes, the easier it goes, and conversely the harder money comes, the more carefully it is expended. Only the man who knows the cost of a dollar, knows its value.—Grit.

Hosiery Colors

The smartest colors in hosiery are those that are on the beige tones, with no suggestion of pink in their coloring. Gun-metal, with black heels, and other due-tone effects are very popular and equally smart.

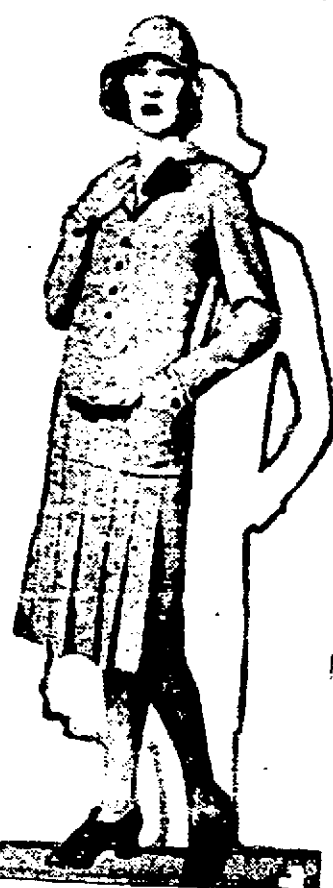

Youthful Fashions

A new version of the peasant frock for the younger set is of a heavy rough silk with gay embroidered motifs on the full sleeves gathered into a cuff.

Inventive Woman

Women are said to have little inventive genius, but we'll bet that one of them invented allmony.—Florence Herald.

Blue and White Checks Worn by "Movie" Actresses

Checks and plaids add novelty to the new two-piece frocks. Appropriate for street wear is this frock of blue and white checks worn by Gwen Lee, motion picture player, in "His Brother From Brazil." The frock is trimmed with black buttons, a black kid belt and a dark shoulder flower.

Greens Take Lead Among Colors for the Season

The crystal-trimmed white frock, which for the last few weeks has practically dominated the evening mode, has to a certain extent yielded the palm of popularity to those in the pale, faint shades of flesh and pink, or green in light almond and chartreuse tones.

This tendency toward shades of green in preference to the pink tones has been growing for some time, and from the Riviera resorts comes word that the more delicate shades of green are rapidly supplanting other colors for evening wear.

Mile and absolute, as well as the shades already mentioned, are given a most prominent place in the collections of new frocks designed for resort wear, and the use of these colors is not confined to evening. One finds them chosen for the charming little semi-sports frocks and for the sheer lovely chiffons and georgettes that are worn for tea and dancing.

Lovers' Knot Brooch New Used to Fasten Drapery

A curious effect of the new jewelry fashion is the popularity of the lovers' knot brooch. This resembles the brooch worn in past days to safeguard a small plain gold watch worn by ladies on the left shoulder. Nowadays, however, the lovers' knot brooch is used to fasten drapery on a gown, or as the motif relieving an otherwise plain hat.

Earrings are still very much in evidence and may be of almost any design. Those that rely for their effect on the color contrast of precious stones are probably the most popular, but others in the form of pendants are equally fashionable. Mexican or "fire" opals appear in this connection to be gaining in popularity.

Yellow Velvet Gown

Yellow is coming into favor by way of velvet for evening wear. Blondes favor the sunny shade particularly. One of the pretty models in yellow is viewable at the house of Drecoil in Paris. It is made of pale tinted velvet—so delicate it is almost ivory. A girdle of rich gold braid studded with bronze ornaments holds the fullness of the skirt in front. The back of the model shows a bodice of black lace.

Vogue of Plaits

The use of plaits on frocks that are distinctly sport in character has much to recommend it. In the first place plaiting is simple enough to be in keeping with the general effect of simplicity, and in the second it permits of the fullness necessary for freedom of motion without disturbing the slender lines of the silhouette.

Up-to-Minute Trimmings

The trimmings on day frocks are particularly delicate and attractive. They are made with tucked bands, stitching, tiny plaits, gaufré or plissé bands or borders of laced narrow bands in the same fabric as the frock or in the one used for the trimming. Many decorations in chenille and wool and wool and silk combined.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

"The way to keep a man out of the mud is to black his boots," once said Frederick Douglass. The man with soiled shoes does not care what path he takes.

GOOD THINGS WE LIKE

Simple desserts, which may be served to young and old, appeal to the busy housewife.

Lemon Jelly and Sliced Bananas.—Prepare the lemon jelly from a package which needs but the addition of a pint of boiling water.

When it is firm (if prepared the day before) it will be ready to cut into cubes. Put the cubes in the center of a glass dish and heap the sliced bananas around them. Pour over a thin custard, using a cupful of milk and egg and a strained honey for sweetening. The turnness of the jelly is especially good with the bananas.

Orange Parfait.—Boil together one cupful of sugar and one cupful of water until it threads or at 215 degrees on a candy thermometer. Pour the sirup onto two stiffly beaten egg whites, fold in the whipped cream (two cupfuls) and add one cupful of strained orange juice. Turn into a mold and pack in ice and salt. Allow to stand four hours before serving.

Orange Soufflé.—To the whites of three eggs add a small pinch of salt and beat until stiff, then gradually beat in three tablespoonfuls of sugar. Beat the yolks of the eggs until light and lemon colored, add six tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and enough orange juice to make of the consistency of coffee cream. Into this fold carefully one-half of the beaten whites, turn into a baking dish and cook in a dish of water until it puffs. Spread over it the pulp of three oranges, cover with the remaining egg white and set in the oven to brown quickly. The pulp of oranges when cooked at a high temperature will become bitter.

Simple custards baked, steamed or served as a sauce on fruit, are always a wholesome dessert for both little people and the grown-ups. A caramel custard is always enjoyed. Melt a half cupful of sugar in a heavy frying pan, add hot milk to dissolve and when well dissolved add one egg to each three-fourths cupful of milk, bake in a pan of water or steam in water over the gas flame. Remove as soon as the custard thickens as overcooking spoils a custard, making it coarse and unwholesome.

Eleanor Gunn Says

New York.—Advises from the runway at Chantilly stress the bolero and the kerchief collar or bandanna.

It is also reported that black has been reinstated by the better-dressed Frenchwomen.

All shades of blue are very much affected, however, both in Europe and America.

The lace frock in three tiers of flounces has many sponsors for formal summer occasions.

Mocha, which scarcely needs any description, is one of the new colors being played up on both sides of the Atlantic for early fall as well as immediate wear.

The printed dress plus a top coat of harmonizing shades, nearly always plain, is representative of the season's ensemble.

Flesh and all delicate shades of pink and peach are worn very much for summer dance dresses.

Draping and tucking continue to be favored methods of decoration.

Both linen and cotton are making good plays for favor this season and have been worn by sartorially important women.

Reports have it that the small bolero, often of straw, triumphed over all other hats in Paris for mid-summer. But American women have taken refuge under shadowy brims again.

Apollo Downs Central Hudson

At the Athletic Field Thursday evening the Apollo-Universal sprung a surprise and trounced the Central Hudson Gas & Electric team, 7-1, outplaying them in every department. The Gasmen tried hard to win the game, charging each player's position, but to no avail.

Colvin, pitcher for Apollos and Whitaker opposed each other on the mound at the start of the game, but Whitaker was forced to quit in the third in favor of Doyle, who was later relieved by Knight. Knight was the only batter who was able to solve Colvin's slants, getting three hits and being robbed of one when Doyle failed to touch second after Knight had hit to center field.

The Gasmen threatened to score in the first inning, loading the bases, but didn't have the necessary punch. In the Apollos' half Merritt bunted safely, took second on Disch's error and scored on Glaser's single to left field. Glaser stole second and Butler went home with another single to left. Quinn obliged with an error and Hyatt was safe on first base. Butler tallied on Modjeska's hit to left field. The Combination team kept scoring throughout the game, registering in every inning but the last. Quinn scored the Gasmen's only run in the fourth. He was given a free trip to first, advanced to second on a balk and reached third on a passed ball. Wood hit to Butler in left field and he erred, Quinn scoring.

Delaney Wins on Foul in Seventh

Paulino Is Waxed to His Corner After Fourth Left Hook Is Landed. Loss—Delaney Had Filled Up His Lead.

New York, Aug. 12 (AP).—The Spanish mercenary to American heavyweight supremacy had drifted over the Atlantic today, temporarily at least, on the wings of an unsatisfactory and disputed battle as the Dempsey-Starky fight.

Pounded but not greatly damaged at every clout known to boxing, the little threat of Paulino Hernandez, woodchopper of the Pyrenees, faded when Jack Delaney's right hand, was lifted in victory on a foul, after one minute and 57 seconds of fighting in the seventh of a 15 round fight at the Yankee Stadium last night.

Thrilled warned by the referee for low punching, Paulino was waxed to his corner after a fourth left hook landed below the belt. The result stunned the spectators, who had seen nothing untoward in the milling, and left in its wake a controversy of "foul or no foul," that rivaled the sudden termination of the battle between Dempsey and Sharkey in the same ring and in the same round only three weeks ago.

While the fracas lasted there was no question of supremacy. Returning after his defeat at the hands of Jimmy Maloney, Delaney speared the clumsy Paulino at will with either hand; cut his face and bruised his nose until features were a mask of blood. But hard and straight as the punches flew, Paulino refused to go down or waver. He never once halted a steady although futile advance.

Weighing 16 pounds less than the squat Spaniard, Delaney, at 177½, was little over the weight limit of the light-heavyweight division, where he ruled as champion before relinquishing the title to cast his lot among the heavyweights.

And despite Delaney's sharpshoot-ing, with both hands and ease with which Paulino could hit, the better necessary to bring the big man down obviously was lacking.

There was little to thrill the spectators in the six rounds of milling, preceding the unsatisfactory ending. It was a case of Delaney, artistic boxer and master of ring arts, matching all his skill against powerful but clumsy opponent, who had little but a sweeping left hook and elbow defense in his fist repertoire.

Tennis Tourney At Margaretville

Local and visiting players of Delaware and adjoining counties in the Catskill Range are invited to participate in the second annual open tournament to be held at the courts of the Margaretville Tennis Club, August 24, and following days.

The first of these tournaments, inaugurated last year and held at Margaretville, was a decided success. There were a considerable number of contests in both singles and doubles, and exhibition matches by experts from New York city were also staged.

The courts and equipment of the Margaretville Tennis Club compare favorably with the better class courts, which enhances the pleasure and quality of the play.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners and runners-up in all events. The rules of the United States Lawn Tennis Association will govern the matches.

Entries for men's singles will close the morning of August 24, and play will begin at 10:30 a. m. All good roads lead to Margaretville, the atmosphere is friendly, and the opportunity to further acquaintance with tennis friends and the game will be pleasantly available.

No charge to spectators. All friends of clean sport, and the folks generally, are invited to witness the contests.

The committee in charge is composed of W. N. Edson, Thomas Quirk, the Rev. G. W. Walker, Ralph Linder, William O'Ryan, William Houghton, G. Peters, and Dr. J. Gorse Simmons, chairman.

Entries and requests for information should be addressed to Dr. J. G. Simmons, Margaretville, N. Y.

ALL-STARS HAVE TWO HARD GAMES AHEAD

Saturday the Kingston All-Stars will go to Newburgh to play the Crescents of that place at Recreation Park.

Sunday will see the local team at Montgomery battling with that club. The Newburgh club, which has been organized lately, last Sunday defeated the Haverstraw K. of C. club. This means that the All-Stars will have to play some ball to get an even break. The locals defeated Montgomery the last time they were out there by a 4-1 score. This was the best game played there this season. The home team is out to down the All-Star club this time so it should be some battle. The pitching problem for the two games will be taken care of by Hank Cragan, Dewey Van Buren and Freddie Stodd.

Colonials Again Beat Oneontas

The Colonials disposed of the Oneonta team at Stamford, Thursday, for the second time this season. The final tally was 7-2.

It was a tough battle and both teams were on even terms until the fifth stanza when the Colonials jumped into the lead by one run. In the seventh and eighth innings the locals began to work effectively with the willow and corralled one and three respectively.

Bad Colloton played no little hand in the victory for in the tight places, made it tough going for the Oneonta boys. Kelly and Looser were in batting form and collected a triple and double apiece. Shay led the hitters with three hits.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press)

While the Cubs appeared to be severely lodged on the National League pinnacle today on a margin of four and one half games, the pennant path was by no means smooth for ahead loomed a triple threat of the Pirates, Cardinals and Giants.

The Cards shuffled through to a 2 to 1 victory over the second place Pirates yesterday, the veteran Alexander getting the breaks in a hurling duel with Aldridge.

Pittsburgh's current series at St. Louis figures as "crucial" for both clubs, as the world champions had an opportunity to go into a tie for the runnerup honors by coming out in front of the Buccaneers again today.

What effect the benching of Hazen Cuyler will have on the Pirates will depend on developments. Reports that Pittsburgh was getting ready to swap or sell Cuyler were declared to be unfounded, as was a report that Max Carey would leave the Robins at the close of the season to return to the Pirates.

The Braves tagged the Phillies with a 5 to 4 setback. Willoughby walked three batters in the sixth when Brown singled to score the winning run.

Brooklyn went under in an inter-borough feud with the Giants by 3 to 2, last support helping Virgil Barnes to wrest a victory from Dazzy Vance.

Charlie Root turned in his 21st victory of the year as the Cubs blanked the Reds, 2 to 0. Cliff Heathcote's triple with English and Root on base in the third proved to be the downfall of Luque. The Cuban allowed only 5 hits against six made off Root.

Present indications are that the Cubs will be pitted in the World Series with the Yanks and if they do, it will mark the second time in baseball history that New York and Chicago clubs battle for the world championship together. The White Sox fought it out with the Giants in 1917, taking four out of six games.

The Yanks went eleven innings before yielding to the Senators by 3 to 2 and at that Koenig tossed the game away. With one out, Joe Judge tripped and wrenched his right leg sliding to third. In relaying the ball from Ruth, Koenig made a wild heave into the grandstands and Judge walked in with the deciding run. Babe Ruth went hitless.

After the Athletics shut out the Red Sox in the opener of a double-header by 4 to 0, Boston, behind Pitcher Harriss, blanked Philadelphia, 2 to 0 in the second fray. In winning the first game, Howard Ehmke gained the distinction of being the first of Mack's pitching staff to score a shutout this season.

Cleveland subdued the White Sox, 3 to 1, in a ten inning affair. Miller was victor over Pitcher Thomas. Both allowed seven hits.

Gibson held the Browns to seven hits while his Detroit mates made off with a 6 to 2 decision. McManus got three hits, including a double.

Knights Will Meet Colonials Tonight

Local K. of C. Nine Will Play Cullton-Robins Club Tonight at the Fair Grounds—Games Ahead For Local Teams.

Local fandom will have a chance to see the Colonials in action against the second aggregation of home talent tonight when the Knights of Columbus nine lines up in battle array at the Fair Grounds. The Cullton-Robins boys had no trouble disposing of their last Kingstonian opponents, the Kingston All-Stars, but it is the contention of the Kayseys' followers—and there is a collection of them which rolls into numbers of no small amount—that the All-Stars' efforts will be surpassed considerably.

The Kaysey rooters base their stand on the fact that a number of teams of calibre have had trouble in downing the Knights, among them the Oneonta boys who gave the Colonials something to worry about in two contests. Then a number of fairly good teams in the vicinity have bowed to the Knights. Of course it is realized that the Kayseys do not class the Colonials with any of the teams about Kingston.

The Knights will have to be more than effective with the club in order to make a showing against the Colonials for lack of ability with the willow was one of the main features in the downfall of the All-Stars. However, the following open whose averages have been climbing steadily will line up against the Colonials: McGrane, or Cragan, first; "Boots" Leskie, second; Stikler, short; Davitt, third; Cahill, Feeney, Didrik and Colvin for the outer garden; Schultz, receiver with Cragan and Volter available for the moored position.

Randolph Winston will in all probability be backed on by the Colonials to do the pitching against the Knights. The regular Colonial lineup will be in the field against the Knights.

On Saturday the Colonials will "do their stuff" against the Peeks-kill team. Sunday they will meet the Bushwicks at Dexter Park, Brooklyn. The game will be called at 1:40 p. m. Ted Karis will be with the Colonials for their showing against the Bushwicks as will Ferdie Allen and Bud Colloton and Art Smith will be the hurriers to pick from for the Brooklyn contest while Maury McDermott will be the pitcher in the Peeks-kill game.

On Sunday the local K. of C. team will be at the Fair Grounds in a dual role, meeting the Golden Rods in the first game and the Newburgh nine in the second.

Roundouts at New Paltz.

The Roundout A. C. will journey to New Paltz this evening where they will meet the fast-stepping nine of that community. Peters or Best will do the hurling for the Roundouts with Jimmy Volker behind the plate. Just who will form the battery of the New Paltz team has not been announced.

Chicago Training Camps Selected

Lincoln Fields Race Course Is Picked For Dempsey and Cedar Crest Country Club For Tunney.

Chicago, Aug. 12 (AP).—Looking over Chicago's suburbs with as much care as President Coolidge's envoys searched the middle west for a summer White House, the house hunters for Dempsey have chosen Lincoln Fields race course, and Tunney's manager has picked the Cedar Crest Country Club, as training camps for their impending championship fight.

Dempsey's camp, if the challenger approves the arrangements, will be 35 miles south of Chicago. Tunney's training headquarters would be about the same distance northwest of the loop.

Lincoln Fields is on the way to becoming one of the most beautiful race track plants in the country, and Dempsey will have the use of the bungalow built for Colonel Matt J. Winn, manager of that track as well as of Churchill Downs.

The Cedar Crest Country Club is near Lake Villa, bordering Fox Lake on one side and Petite Lake on the other. The clubhouse has 45 rooms, and 30 cottages are situated on the 250 acre estate. Telegraph facilities were promised Gibson by A. J. Cermak, president of the Cook county (Chicago) board of county commissioners, who has a summer home at Antioch, nearby.

Under present plans, Dempsey will be the first to open his training quarters here. He is expected next Thursday, with Tunney arriving about a week later.

Train Hits Open Switch, Two Killed

Milwaukee, Aug. 12 (P).—Two Milwaukee road employees, an engineer and a fireman, were killed today when the fast Milwaukee train, running between Minneapolis and Chicago, struck an open switch near Stoughton, west of Racine. Several others on the train were hurt.

The dead are: L. H. Brock, engineer, and Terry Webber, fireman, both of Milwaukee.

The engine and three baggage cars were wrecked as the speeding train struck the switch. The train was composed entirely of baggage cars.

Mrs. Sanderson Wants Divorce.

Arland J. Sanderson, central figure in the "masked assault" case that stirred Ellenville last winter, has now been sued for absolute divorce by his wife, Ruth Sanderson.

Mrs. Jennie Turner, on whose account Sanderson is alleged to have been beaten by the masked men, is named as co-respondent in the bill of complaint filed in the county clerk's office in this city by Attorney Frank W. Brooks, counsel for Mrs. Sanderson.

Secretary Davis To Visit Coolidge

No Indication That President Has Anything Urgent To Take Up With Secretary—Eugene Meyer, Chairman of Federal Farm Loan Board, Will Also Call.

Rapid City, S. D., Aug. 12 (P).—The steady stream of official callers which has been coming into the Black Hills this week continued again today with Secretary Davis of the Labor Department on the engagement list of President Coolidge.

Director Lord of the Budget was also expected late today, and Eugene Meyer, chairman of the Federal Farm Loan Board, was another visitor on the President's list for today.

Secretary Davis is the third cabinet member to come here this week. Secretaries Wilbur and Work had preceded him. While he took off from Mooseheart, Ill., his summer home, in an airplane yesterday, to come to the summer White House, there was no indication here that the President had anything urgent to take up with Mr. Davis. Mr. Davis is coming here in response to an invitation extended to him by the President early in the summer when the secretary was at St. Paul.

Mr. Meyer, who was made chairman of the Federal Farm Loan Board in the reorganization of the body earlier in the year by Mr. Coolidge, has been touring the west and there was some expectation that he might have definite views on the talked-of administration farm bill. It is known the administration contemplates a measure creating a farm board with power to administer a fund of $300,000,000 as loans to farmers and cooperative marketing associations.

RIVERSIDE PICNIC BY ULSTER PARK LADIES' AID

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church at Ulster Park will hold a riverside picnic on the grounds of George Terpening, along the River Road, on Tuesday afternoon and evening, August 16.

There will be the usual refreshments, such as ice cream, soda water, candy, etc., and a special attraction will be the homemade cake. Boating and bathing will also be features of the afternoon and evening.

THREE INJURED IN AUTO CRASH NEAR ELLENVILLE

Three women were rushed to the Memorial Hospital in Ellenville on Wednesday afternoon as a result of a collision on the Greenfield road between a Stutz car, owned by C. N. Seglin of Albany, and the Studebaker machine of Irving Meisler of New York city.

The injured are Frances Lortie, Anna Rosner and Rita Greenstein, all occupants of the Studebaker. They were treated for minor cuts and contusions.

The collision occurred, according to witnesses, when the Stutz tried to pass a wagon going in the same direction. As it started to go around the wagon, the Studebaker appeared in its path. The two cars met head-on. Both cars were badly damaged.

Seglin had the owner of the Studebaker car arrested. When he was arraigned before Judge Moore he was paroled in the custody of his attorney, LeRoy Lounsbury. Seglin will be represented by State Senator Burns of Troy at the trial which will be held on August 18.

Among those who have been successful in passing is Augustus S. Bonanno, son of Samuel Bonanno, of 84 Clifton avenue, Kingston. Mr. Bonanno, who has been residing in Washington for some time, is a graduate of the Law School of National University with the degree of Bachelor of Law. He will be admitted to practice before the Supreme court about the first part of October when the court next convenes in general session.

PRIESTS ATTEND FAITH AND ORDER CONFERENCE

Lausanne, Switzerland, Aug. 12 (P).—Two Roman Catholic priests are closely following the deliberations of the World Conference on Faith and Order, it was revealed today.

Although their church is not officially represented, the priests have been admitted to the open sessions of the conference, where they sit with the delegates as sort of unofficial observers. They also have access to the minutes and reports of the conference.

Both have admitted that they would report to the Vatican. As they speak several languages, the priests are able to follow the proceedings without interpreters.

They are Fr. Max Metzger of Geratz, Austria, and Fr. Herman Hoffmann of Breslau, Germany.

TRIED HIS OWN CASE, JUSTICE FINES HIM $50.

George Kravet of New York city was arraigned before Justice Moore of Ellenville on Wednesday on a charge of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident without observing the proper formalities.

The New Yorker elected to be his own attorney. Assistant District Attorney Cason B. Murray prosecuted. Kravet's chief defense was indignation at being called away from New York city. It was claimed that Kravet had crashed into a Fiat truck along the Greenfield road on the afternoon of July 9. In many ways he tried to show the court that he had never been on the Greenfield road in his life. His efforts were unavailing and he was fined fifty dollars.

Girl Air Pilot Thrills Crowd

Then Rasche, German Aviator, Arrives at Albany, Enroute To New York—Thrills Spectators at Schenectady.

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 12 (P).—Then Rasche, German girl air pilot, gave spectators forty minutes of thrills in a stunt flying program at the Schenectady landing field today, immediately before taking off for Albany.

Members of the official reception committee here said her exhibition was the most skillful yet staged on the field, which opened last May and on which an average of a plane a day has landed since. Tail spins, those diving, looping the loop and other precarious stunts were performed by the aviatrice. Prior to leaving this city at 11 a. m. she said she was celebrating her twenty-eighth birthday in this city and that she knew no way to do this better than by flying in her Flamingo plane. She was scheduled to stop a half hour in Albany, then depart for New York, which she expected to reach by four p. m.

Arrives At Albany.

Albany, Aug. 12 (P).—Then Rasche, the German aviatrice, arrived here today from Schenectady. During her short visit here she was the guest of the Albany Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon. She planned to fly to New York later in the day.

Two Sisters Are Slain at St. Paul

Police Seek Husbands of Mrs. Ruth Barrett and Mrs. Lillian Kooser, Found Murdered in Barrett House.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 12 (P).—Police today delved farther into the gang war conspiracies in an effort to solve the slaying of two sisters whose deaths brought unsolved killings here to eleven during the past 18 months.

The husbands of the two women, Mrs. Ruth Barrett, 32, and Mrs. Lillian Kooser, 35, were fought by police. The women were found shot to death in the Barrett home Thursday.

Mrs. Barrett's husband, James Barrett, was engaged in an automobile finance business here. Police are investigating the possibility that he, too, may have been slain. His automobile was found burned on a country road near here.

Kooser, whose wife came here a few months ago, from Mankato, Minn., to live with her sister, is charged with grand larceny in connection with a jewelry store robbery at Blue Earth, Minn. He has been at liberty on bail. Several months ago he was acquitted on a bank robbery charge. He is believed to be in Canada.

Police learned that one of the women was a friend of two women who were slain here five weeks ago in what was believed to have been a bootleg gang feud.

Evening Star Is Tri-Colored

According to Captain Van Ethen of Steam Lighter Washburn the Planet is Red on Top, Green Rays on the Side and Dull Yellow on Lower Rim.

Kingston residents who possess or can borrow a pair of binoculars may see some interesting sights if they train them on the evening star, Venus, which can be seen in the heavens between 8 and 9 o'clock, and as the night grows darker they will see tri-colored rays, red, green and yellow, according to Captain A. N. Van Ethen of the steam lighter U. F. Washburn, which plies up and down the Hudson river.

Tuesday night while passing Poughkeepsie Captain Van Ethen said he trained his binoculars on the evening star and saw it throw out red rays on the top, green rays on the side toward the north and the lower rim dull yellow rays. He thought his eyes had tricked him and said nothing until Wednesday evening when his vessel lay berthed at Hudson and he again trained his glasses on Venus with the same result.

He called his chief engineer to view the star through the glasses and he reported the same result.

Captain Van Ethen said that the star when he viewed it was off to the east, about 45 degrees, and that the best time to view it was after 9 o'clock.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 12 (AP).—Collapse of several pool specialties, after announcement of a stock exchange failure as the result of yesterday's sensational decline in Manhattan Electrical Supply, unsettled today's stock market, which had opened with a display of strength. Extreme declines in a dozen issues reported to be under pool sponsorship ran from 3 to 23 points although supporting orders were quickly supplied for a few by "inside" interests.

Outside news was again forgotten as the market tried to correct the weak spots revealed in the day's trading. Heavy liquidation took place for both accounts, with the leading commission houses urging their customers to get out of the volatile issues and restrict commitments to the seasoned dividend payers until the corrective process showed signs of being completed.

Banks called about $10,000,000 in loans, and required what Wall Street describes as a "sweetening" of others by demanding more or better collateral, but call money was in plentiful supply at the renewal rate of 3 1/2 per cent. Although brokers' loans were reported at record high levels yesterday, a substantial decline is looked for next week as a result of the drastic decline that has taken place in the last two days.

Eureka Vacuum showed an extreme decline of 2 1/2 points by touching 51 but later rallied well above 60. Air Reduction collapsed 19 points to 166, Houston 14 1/2 to 115 and Pittsburgh Coal Commercial Solvents, B. A. M. Byers and White Sewing Machine sold down 9 to 13 points before they met sufficient support to stem the tide of selling.

Early gains of 1 to 3 points in Baldwin, General Motors and many other rail and industrial leaders were cancelled, and in some instances replaced with losses running as much as 5 points.

Manhattan Electrical Supply, which broke from 121 to 58 1/2 yesterday, opened today at 61, advanced to 64 1/2 and then collapsed to 50 1/2, a new low level for the year.

Preparedness Is On Larger Scale

Among The Nations of The World.
With The Exception of France, the rest of the World Federation of Education Associations.

Toronto, Aug. 12 (AP)—That a "high state of preparedness" exists among the nations of the world and that with the exception of France, military preparedness is generally on a larger scale than in previous times are statements contained in a "military preparedness" report presented to the World Federation of Education Associations in session here.

It says that in the United States there has been an increase of 499 per cent since 1912 in the number undergoing military training.

The report is part of the findings of the committee that has been studying the plan for bringing about world peace with which Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Lehigh University, won a $25,000 prize offered by Raphael Herman, of Washington, D. C.

"Military training," says the report, "confronts the youths and young men of the United States today on a scale never reached before, and it is rapidly being extended under the encouragement of the War Department. It is the object to improve the military preparedness of the United States? It is difficult to believe that there is any other reason for its inclusion in the work of the schools."

Unconscious and in a burning automobile B. Winkler of Brooklyn, was saved from death last Friday night by Guy Tremper, a huckleberry picker, on the lower mountain road, near Ellenville.

Winkler, driving an Auburn sedan from Brooklyn to Mt. Pleasant, suddenly discovered that he was on the wrong road. He backed up to turn around and as he did so the rear of his car hit a large rock at the side of the road, breaking the gas tank.

The car caught fire immediately. Tremper, the berry picker, was working near the road. He saw the flaming car and rushed to the rescue, lifting Winkler out and taking him to the side of the road. The tourist was burned about the head, the left arm and hands, and was rendered unconscious. He was removed to Mt. Pleasant Lodge by two other tourists.

A few minutes before the accident Winkler had been arrested by Officer Meyers of Ellenville for passing a signal light in Ellenville and had been fined $3.

107 Families Are Homeless
Dumas, Ark., Aug. 12 (AP)—One hundred and seven families driven from their homes by flood waters from the Arkansas river reported to Red Cross officials at McGhee last night for food and shelter. They reported a strip of land eight miles wide and fifteen miles long in Desha and Chicot counties inundated by water as the result of the rise in the river since the first of the year.

The anxiety which has hung over southeastern Arkansas for several days, however, was lifted somewhat by the forecast that crest stages had been lowered at Fort Smith, Little Rock, and Pine Bluff. It was generally believed that the water had reached a standstill.

The present overflow resulted when the river rose past flood stage before two old breaks had been repaired in the levee system.

Machine Certificate Filed.

A certificate has been filed with the Ulster county clerk by James T. Maxwell and John Maxwell of Saugerties; William M. Maxwell of New York; J. Walter Maxwell and James T. Maxwell of Philadelphia, that they are conducting a business at 81 Chambers street, New York, and at Saugerties, N. Y., under the name and style, John Maxwell Sons. What a lot of things there are to disagree about at home.

What happened to your watch to-day?

Why, nothing at all, you will say. You didn't drop or jar it, and it kept just as good time as ever.

Yet, something has happened to it. Every twenty-four hours the oil in your watch evaporates just a little more, becomes a bit more gummy; tiny particles of dirt sift into the delicate mechanism, even through the most tightly fitting case, and eventually the timekeeping performance of the watch is impaired.

Be fair to your watch. Have it cleaned, oiled, and adjusted at least once a year and avoid heavier repairs later. Experts in our Service Department will do this for you at moderate cost.

And while you're considering the care of your watch, be sure it's thoroughly up-to-date in style—dressed in one of the celebrated Wadsworth Cases, that set the fashion for watches today.

Cordially yours,

Safford & Scudder
